About the Artist

MICHAEL SIEVE

Michael Sieve is a renowned wildlife artist whose deep connection with the outdoors began on his family's farm in southwestern Minnesota. Inspired by hunting trips with his father and a strong work ethic, Sieve developed a deep appreciation for wildlife. He formally studied art at Southwest State University but found his true style through his passion for nature. Known for realistic depictions of animals from a hunter's perspective, he draws from his own extensive photography and travels across the globe. Living on 40 acres dedicated to conservation, Sieve integrates his values into his work and has helped raise millions for wildlife causes. His art has been widely published, exhibited, and collected around the world.
